

Congratulations to the College of Engineering's 2012 Award Recipients

The Dean's Award for Academic Excellence was established in order to recognize the outstanding academic performance of undergraduate engineering students. To be eligible for this award an undergraduate student must be a senior, majoring in engineering, with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.50 at the end of the Fall term, who will graduate within the current academic year. Recipients of this award are chosen by the Dean of Engineering.
